Message from the CO

Greetings, Shipmates

The complexion and tone of this 1st Quarter message has been turned on its head in just the last several weeks.

First, I hope this finds you and your immediate family healthy and safe. I was set to announce the details of our 2020 McCard Reunion in the Newport RI area with a lot of enthusiasm. The current Coronavirus health emergency has tempered the enthusiasm somewhat with reservations about the future. The promising note is that we are still six months away from our planned event date and I will remain optimistic and positive for the time being.

I have been in contact with Experience Rhode Island tour company and the Crowne Plaza Hotel and they are working with us through this ordeal. Our main concern was cancellation policies and obviously the decision on whether to cancel the reunion for 2020 or hold for clarity. I have chosen to stay the course for the next 60 days in hopes that a more clear picture will be presented to us in order that we can make a better decision for the best interest of the crew. My first consideration will be for the health and well being of our crew.

Until then, please see our tentative 2020 Reunion agenda enclosed in this newsletter. Please keep the Registration form handy until a firm decision is made by the ships officer group as to whether we move forward or cancel our reunion for this year and reschedule.

I realize that these are difficult and questionable times, and we all have personal concerns and reasons whether to consider attending our Reunion this year or not. I can wholeheartedly understand your concerns. Let's all remain positive that this will pass without personally affecting any of us and we can return to our normal life.

We are past the initial shock of this pandemic and we all understand what we need to do be safe. There is plenty of information out there on how to best protect yourself from potential contamination. Shelter in place and sanitize when you absolutely have to leave your house, may be the best advice.

Stay well

Straw poll for 2020 Reunion: I would like to get a rough idea of your interest in attending the 2020 McCard Reunion. This obviously depends on the status of the Coronavirus with, an "All Clear."

Just email or text me with a Yes, No or Maybe. You can also go to my post on the McCard Facebook page and submit your answer. Not necessary to respond again if you previously answered.

!!!!!! Membership Dues Reminder !!!!!!!

Membership dues are requested, and due, in January of each year. I would appreciate your help and cooperation in this matter. For those that have already paid, THANK YOU. Your continuing membership is important to the McCard Association Thank you.

!! Membership Concern !!

As mentioned in previous newsletters, the number of active members in the McCard Alumni Reunion Association is showing signs of declining interest. Here are some current numbers that might be of interest:

1. 133 - active 2019 - 2020 members
2. 18 - inactive 2017 - 2018 members
3. 26 - inactive 2015 -2016 members
4. 26 - inactive 2014 members
5. 11 - inactive - unknown status
6. 21 - inactive - Plank Owner and Survivor status

FYI...As of March 31st., we have 57 of 121 active and current Paid members; 77 Inactive Past Due members from 2014 to 2020; 5 Lifetime members and 9 Plank Owner members.

Obviously, our critical mission is to maintain our active membership, but also to identify and recruit more potential members. Hopefully we can bring more of those “younger” crew mates from the 1970’s on board. Looking for volunteers See more from XO, Doug McKay’s comment section.

As many of you know, the older a Past Due Account gets, the harder it is to collect. I feel the same about Membership. The longer a member is separated from their organization, the harder it is to bring them back in. And sometimes the harder it is to find them.

We are an aging group that needs more “younger” shipmates involved in the Reunion Association. I personally have gone into several other Internet Navy ship organizations (TWS - Together We Served, HullNumber, etc.) and tried to communicate with McCard sailors that are not affiliated with our group. I have tried searching ancestry.com and DEX White Pages for specific names. It’s a lot of work. A proactive and protracted effort is required. The Help Wanted sign is hanging in the window.

Membershin Minute: This first Flag Hoist of 2020 brings us news related to our ship, and it’s being sent to all recent members not just those who have renewed their membership for this year. But now’s the time to send in your renewal form if you haven’t already done so. Do it now in order to be assured you’ll continue receiving this newsletter! Just fill in the form add $10 and send it in! Also, would you like some help tracking down a shipmate on the McCard? We have limited contact info on some old members so contact me with any McCard sailors you’d like to get in touch with, thanks! Doug McKay (dmck27@bellsouth.net; 770-698-0227)

Remember the good ole days when you go out and dine with your friends, in fact the restaurant would even bring it to you.

Now hear this, the roach coach is on the pier!

Newport, Rhode Island

The US Navy has roots in Newport's early colonial fleet, and has been a significant presence in Newport since the 1860s. Its major components were Naval War College and the Torpedo Station (now Naval Undersea Warfare Center) both of which were founded immediately after the Civil War. The Navy presence on Aquidneck Island grew and eventually included the Naval Education Training Center and the North Atlantic Destroyer Squadron which had its home port at the Newport Naval base until the 1970s. Despite the loss of the fleet, the Navy is still the largest employer in the area, bringing many industry and service businesses

The Naval War College (NWC or NAVWARCOL) and Museum is the staff college and "Home of Thought" for the United States Navy at Naval Station Newport in Newport, Rhode Island.^[4] The NWC educates and develops leaders, supports defining the future Navy and associated roles and missions, supports combat readiness, and strengthens global maritime partnerships.
